Richard Dragulejev was born on 28.5.2000 in Hungary. His family moved to St. Petersburg shortly after his birth. He spent the first years of his life in Russia. Here he collected his first childhood memories, which are of great importance for his creative work on a surreal level and find expression in his art today.

Artist statement: "I can say little about my art, because what I want to tell cannot be put into words. You as a viewer are not a viewer, rather a part of my work without which it does not resonate."

Richard Dragulejev has been drawing and painting his thoughts and inner worlds with a strong figurative influence for as long as he can remember. In doing so, he does not follow any trendy epochs or art movements. He prefers to paint the faces that develop within him and tries to make them intensely tangible to the viewer.

He gets his inspiration from various sources - above all, however, from people and experiences which he associates with his version. Thus, motifs are sometimes created years earlier or originate from his childhood. Dragulejev does not like to give his works titles or additional information, as he wants to influence the viewer as little as possible.
